

The Free Press.

A CARNIVAL FREE PRESS.

Publishers' Announcement.

We have in preparation an elaborate, finely illustrated and handsome carnival number of the Free Press descriptive of the coming winter carnival. The illustrations are now in preparation by several of the foremost artists in New York. They will be finely executed and will represent all the sporting scenes connected with the carnival, such as coasting, tobogganing, skating, snow-shoeing, hockey, etc., with a striking and attractive cover page and a large double page fantasy of the carnival.

There will also be included a page of handsome Burlington residences and a page of representative business houses and manufacturing, artistically grouped and showing the architecture and business of the city to the best advantage.

The architecture of Burlington is so creditable, and compares favorably with any city of its size in the country, that we desire to give a good representation of it, and thus show the city up in a favorable light to the world at large.

There will also be other attractive and popular illustrations, the whole making one of the most complete and beautiful publications ever printed in this country.

The time for preparing and printing it is now very limited and we may not be able to call upon all who would like to be represented in its pages. There will be a limited amount of space for sale for advertising purposes at reasonable prices, and we would like to hear at once from all who wish any space.

Newsdealers in all parts of the State and in other States are requested to send in their orders at once. There will inevitably be a large demand and ready sale for the Carnival Free Press, and those who place orders first will be served first.

FREE PRESS ASSOCIATION, Publishers.

To Each Reader.

The WEEKLY FREE PRESS with this number enters upon a New Year and it heartily wishes all its readers a happy and prosperous year. The subscription term of a good many of our readers expires with this number. As our regular rule is to stop all papers that are not paid for in advance this will be the last number they will get unless a renewal is sent in promptly. We trust that not one will feel that he can do without the FREE PRESS. We are better prepared this year than ever before to give our patrons their full money's worth. We expect to make the FREE PRESS better the coming year than ever in its history. We have decided to expend the money heretofore put into premiums on the improvement of our paper, and we have no doubt but that our readers will appreciate the expenditure better. In another column we print a prospectus in which we make known some of the good things our subscribers will get by taking the WEEKLY FREE PRESS the coming year. Besides asking you to renew your own subscription we have another request to make—that you do us a favor. We would consider it a personal favor and would be happy to pay reasonably for it if each subscriber who likes the Free Press would secure one more subscriber for it among his neighbors who do not now take it. A little talk and showing of the FREE PRESS, with a statement of some of its strong points would accomplish it, and in doing it you would be helping yourself and doing the Free Press and the new subscriber a favor—by getting him acquainted with the "leading newspaper in Vermont."

CITY AND VICINITY.

The New York Graphic of Monday publishes an excellent portrait and a sketch of the late Lieut. Elliott J. Arthur.

Gustavus Perkins of this city, formerly of Company G 5th Vermont, has just been granted a pension of $12 per month with $1018.75 arrears.

Tom Mallon and George Mungeon and Jack Manning have been arrested on bench warrants on the charge of aiding and abetting the prize fight which took place at Thompson's Point in Colchester, on July 4 last, and were safely lodged in jail. The amount of bail, which has not yet been fixed, will be decided to-day, but it is understood that Mungeon is the only one of the trio who will be able to secure bail.

According to the latest ice-boat rules the classification is as follows: First-class boats are those carrying carrying 624 feet or more of canvas; second-class, 450 to 623 feet; third-class, 250 to 450 feet; fourth-class, 250 feet or less.

W. B. McKillip has sent an elegant traveler to Boston where it will be exhibited at the headquarters of the Central Vermont railroad, 281-283 Washington street.

A Philadelphia exchange says that a syndicate from Northern New York is in that city arranging contracts with one of the Delaware shipbuilding establishments for two powerful low-pressure tug boats, to be used on Lake Champlain.

The survey of the land bought by Dr. W. S. Webb and W. McK. Twombly in Shelburne is in progress and the total number of acres is in the vicinity of 1400, of which the cost was about $100,000. The titles are being searched and the deeds passed as rapidly as possible.

Several shanties at present beautify the landscape near the breakwater, but their inmates bewail the loss of appetite of the lively snail herons, so far it has been chit fishing, while reports from Grand Island and nearer portions of the lake are quite to the contrary.

Tuesday, Candlemas day, was observed at the Roman Catholic churches, and all tapers and candles to be used throughout the year ensuing, were consecrated. It is the custom for both rich and poor to present a candle or candles to their church.

People lately from Boston, the city of culture in many respects, report its culture incomplete in one important respect—it doesn't know anything about our luxuriant Vermont traverses. The one sent there by the Coasting Club has been the study and admiration of the Bostonians.

Tuesday a lady was getting off one traveler at the foot of the hill she was run into by another that had not wanted the proper time, and lost so as to require a team to ride home. She was, fortunately, more scared than hurt, but had an upset occurred midway of the hill, the consequences are fearful to contemplate.

The interesting and valuable course of entertainments given under the auspices of the Y. W. C. T. U., will close March 19, at which date the committee have just engaged Prof. Churchill to give one of his famous readings. Prof. Churchill is one of the best known and most popular orators in the United States and this entertainment will be awaited with great interest.

Edison Harper came across the lake Wednesday to bush the route for the Keeseville stage. It will leave Keeseville at 7 a. m., Port Kent at 8:15, arriving in Burlington at 9:30. It will leave Burlington at 2:15 p. m., reaching Port Kent at 3:15 and Keeseville at 4:15. The ice is said to be in excellent condition, being seven inches thick in the thinnest place.

The work of erecting the timbers for the Russian toboggan slide was begun yesterday and it is expected that it will be nearly completed this week. The addition to the ravine slide is also making good progress. The top will be 15 feet higher than the present one, and it will undoubtedly be steep enough to suit the most daring.

A dog had his first experience with coasting Tuesday, and it was a bitter one. He was not awed by the voice of the bold policeman, nor scared by the swing of his lantern, but sauntered leisurely across Main street, at the Union street crossing. When the bystanders heard a yelp and saw a vanishing traverse, the canine was laid up for repairs at the foot of the hill.

The soiree at the Van Ness Thursday was a largely attended and highly enjoyable affair, the list of guests including many of the most prominent residents of the city. The music was all that could be desired, the refreshments elaborate and the attentions of mine host Drew of the best, and the entire affair passed off in a thoroughly successful manner. It was without doubt the leading social event of the season.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. C. W. Danelle to act as official costumer at the fancy dress ball at the rink during carnival week and he will also furnish costumes for the fancy dress masquerade on roller skates which occurs on Thursday February 18. He has a fine assortment ranging in prices from one to twenty-five dollars and will have them on exhibition on Tuesday of carnival week.

A petition is in circulation asking the mayor and Board of Aldermen to reduce the rate of water rents so that the income therefrom will amount only to such a sum as is necessary to pay the current expenses of the water department, and that the interest on the outstanding water bonds be paid the same as the interest on all other city bonds and indebtedness is paid. It suggests that the family rate for each three months be one dollar and other rates proportionately low, and that the highest water rates be 25 cents per 1000 gallons and that the lowest to large consumers be 10 cents per 1000 gallons.

Mr. William J. Van Arsdel of New York city, who is making the extended purchases of land in Shelburne, hitherto mentioned in these columns, says that the design with which the investment is being made has not been announced, the statements which have appeared in various exchanges being merely surmises. The various farms purchased contain a total of between 1200 and 1300 acres and although not contiguous all lie on the lake shore in the vicinity of the "lover's lane" and are fine pieces of land.

The new toboggan slide is practically completed and reflects credit on the builder, John Roberts. The chute is 200 feet long and the starting point is about 50 feet above the level. Those engaged in this enterprise have made no half-way work and have erected a capacious waiting room which will be heated at all times when the slide is open. The slide is 1000 feet long and as it is centrally located, being within half a mile's walk of the street cars, it will undoubtedly become very popular. It will be ready for use as soon as the weather is cold enough to make ice.

INSTALLATION SERVICES.

REV. C. F. CARTER INSTALLED PASTOR OF COLLEGE STREET CHURCH.

An Interesting and Pleading Ceremony—The Installation Sermon Preached by Rev. Dr. Spaulding of Syracuse.

—The Churches Represented.

The ecclesiastical council called to examine, and if approved, to install the pastor elect of the College street church, Rev. Charles F. Carter, late of Manchester, N. H., assembled in the chapel of that church Wednesday afternoon. The council was composed of ministerial and lay delegates as follows: From the First church in Burlington, Rev. E. Hawes, D. D., and Dea. B. Seaver; the Congregational church in Charlotte, Rev. A. W. Wild and H. W. Prindle; the Congregational church in Colchester, Rev. S. H. Amesen; the Congregational church in Essex, Rev. Wm. F. English and S. G. Butler; the Congregational church in Hinesburg, Rev. A. C. Field and N. D. Parich; the Congregational church in Milton, Rev. J. L. Sewall and C. C. Wood; the Congregational church in Richmond, Rev. A. Hazen; the Congregational church in Underhill, Rev. J. K. Williams and Buel Day; the Congregational church in Westford, Rev. B. S. Adams and A. Partridge; the Congregational church in Williston, Rev. A. D. Barber; the Congregational church in Winooski, Rev. E. A. Sauter and Dea. John Jewett; the Congregational church in Middlebury, L. E. Knapp; the Congregational church in Montpelier, Rev. J. H. Hincks and Rev. F. Smith; the Congregational church in Vergennes, Rev. A. H. Robertson and Dea. Andrew Ross; the Congregational church in Waterbury, Rev. S. H. Wheeler; Rev. George B. Spaulding, D. D., of Syracuse, N. Y.; Rev. P. Gould and Rev. F. T. Perkins of Burlington.

Rev. Edward Hawes, D. D., was chosen moderator and Rev. J. L. Sewall, scribe. After completing the roll of delegates the moderator offered prayer, the reading of the church constitution and the reading of the call of Rev. Mr. Carter were then read and voted satisfactory. The pastor-elect presented a certificate of regular membership in the South Main street Congregational church of Manchester, N. H., and also an attested record of the council ratifying the dissolution of the pastoral relation between himself and that church.

The pastor-elect then related his religious experience and read a paper presenting his doctrine of belief, and also answered various questions as to the same.

The council then went into executive session and voted to proceed with the installation. The committee announced the order of the evening service and the council then took a recess until evening.

INSTALLATION SERVICES.

Sermon by Rev. Dr. Spaulding—Charge to Pastor and Right Hand of Fellowship.

The installation services took place at 7:30 p. m., in the main audience room of the church, and were attended by a very large audience. After an opening voluntary by the organist, the minutes of the council were read by the scribe, Rev. J. L. Sewall of Milton. Following the reading of the minutes came the prayer of invocation by Rev. Austin Hazen, and an anthem by the choir. Rev. George B. Spaulding, D. D., of Syracuse, N. Y., then preached the installation sermon, a discourse of great beauty and impressiveness, of which the following is a brief abstract:

But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. But it shall not be so among you; but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your servant; even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. Mat. xx, 25-28.

When the minister of Jesus and John stood before Christ and brought him to bestow upon them the foremost places in his kingdom, all mankind stood there with its false greed and ambitions. And when Christ called his disciples, Jesus called them to a different kind of greatness, fundamental truth of the gospel, the true greatness and nobility of loving service, the church was there to hear. Jesus pointed out the fact that in the kingdom of God he who would be greatest must be the servant of all. How the great truth of Christianity received meaning and impressiveness as uttered by the lips of Christ. What is Christianity but unselfish service, the revelation of God's nature in this respect, and reflection in ourselves? And I know of no truth which more needs to be emphasized at the present time.

What was there in the sacrifice of Christ, in the motive and spirit, that does not belong to you and me? What was there in the sacrifice of Christ, in the motive and spirit, that does not belong to you and me? What was there in the sacrifice of Christ, in the motive and spirit, that does not belong to you and me?

The universal spirit of unselfish love and service smiles most severely that pre-eminence, which is the highest of all, which can be gained from the structure of progress in the city park until near completion. It has already excited great curiosity and will undoubtedly continue so to the end of the carnival.

The children of the Home were treated to their annual sleigh ride Monday through the generosity of Messrs. Lane & Son who kindly donated the two big sleighs Adirondack and Rock Point and two four horse teams for the purpose. The little folks manifested the keenest enjoyment of their ride and their pleasure was greatly increased through the kind thoughtfulness of Mr. S. Beach who presented each of them with a package of cake. The sight of the happy faces of the children must have more than repaid these gentlemen for their trouble.

The farmers class at the University for 1886 which will meet Monday and continue a month or more. The plan of instruction will be that of last year, and all the detail of work will be arranged to suit the convenience of those attending. Agricultural chemistry as related to fertilization will receive careful attention. Instruction will be given in other subjects if desired, and lectures and instruction given by persons not connected with the college if a demand seems made therefor. Board can be obtained at moderate rates, and half fare certificates can be had on the Central Vermont and the Burlington and Lamotte railroads.

The young man who was the subject of the remarkable surgical operation described in another column, under the heading of "Lighting up a Thigh-bone" is Mr. George F. Kimball, son of Dea. A. Kimball of South Burlington, and a member of the sophomore class in the University. Later advice from him, received by his father, gave a favorable report of his condition. His mother has gone to New York to help care for and comfort him in the hospital, and his physician gives strong encouragement that there will be a permanent cure. The original injury, it may be added, was the result, not of a fall, but of a wrench of the thigh, occasioned by slipping on an icy place.

The manner in which our citizens entertained the large number of teachers in them into loving service their true glory shines out. In that great day when God assigns to all their places in His Kingdom, the first shall be last, not those of splendid gifts or possessions, but those of the humble, self-sacrificing, loving service of the Master. They shall sit down on the right and the left hand of Him who through like service has become King over all.

At the close of this eloquent and appropriate discourse a congregational hymn was sung. Rev. J. H. Hincks of Montpelier then offered the installation prayer, which was followed with a selection by the choir. The charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. F. T. Perkins, and was very earnestly and impressively pronounced. Rev. Mr. Perkins said, in brief: Our Master has indicated the work committed to His ministerial and lay delegates. The responsibility which rests upon you is the salvation of the souls committed to your care. How can this be done? 1. Take heed to yourself. You are not to be saved by virtue of your office, but by maintaining a union with Christ. 2. Take heed to the teaching. The truths clustering around the cross and centering in Christ are the truths to be relied upon in this work of human salvation. 3. Seek the blessing of the Holy Spirit. Expect much from the inspiration and illumination of the spirit of truth. 4. Continue in the work. Shrink not. The salvation of the souls committed to your care depends upon you. Remember that you are in close contact with institutions of learning; with the other churches of this community; with the great questions and movements of the day. Have faith simple and absolute in the truth and spirit of God. Be true to the Master and to these souls committed to your care, and so save thyself and them that are thine.

The right hand of fellowship was then extended to the pastor by Rev. Edward Hawes, D. D., of the First Congregational church in this city. Dr. Hawes said of the personal pleasure it afforded him to welcome a pastor to the pulpit so closely allied and in such close sympathy with his own, and also his gratification that the small circle of ordained Congregational pastors in this city should have been so increased to three. You have come, he said, addressing the pastor, to a beautiful place, a fair spot, and I hope its outward beauty will be matched, and more than matched, by the inward and beautiful things you will find in your social intercourse, and in the realms of thought and sympathy in which you will move. We welcome you to our ecclesiastical councils and to our ministerial association. We welcome you to the house of prayer, where we have gathered today of your spirit. We welcome you, I may say, with expectation because of what we have learned of the record of your work in the past. And especially we welcome you now. We are glad to have you here, and we hope you will be a blessing to this church. As Dr. Hawes closed his earnest words, he grasped the new pastor warmly by the hand.

The choir and congregation then joined in singing a hymn, and the exercises closed with a benediction pronounced by the pastor.
